

not scenery but synergy

Edith Speers

look and look and look around and you will find nowhere nowhere to point your camera and capture the sum of it all but if you are willing to walk softly if you are willing to stand still and let the silence contain you if you are willing to squat low or go down on your knees and bow your head to the ground if you are willing to bend backwards and tilt your chin to the sky you will find signs and traces adding up to more than the sum of it all